[Here/Now] Episode One: The Women of Lockerbie
Submitted by Holly Arsenault on May 22, 2020 - 1:26pm

Our new series of quarantine interviews, [Here/Now] kicks off with MFA directing student Kristie Post Wallace and 2020 MFA acting grad Alyssa Franks talking about the School of Drama’s production of The Women of Lockerbie, which opened and closed on the same day due to COVID-19. Join us for this intimate, illuminating discussion about about the experience of making the show and grieving its abrupt closing, and how the lessons of the play are showing up in unexpected ways during quarantine.

People Involved:  Kristie Post Wallace  Alyssa Franks
News Category:  Blog  Community Profiles

School of Drama
University of Washington
101 Hutchinson Hall, Box 353950
Source URL: https://drama.washington.edu/news/2020/05/22/herenow-episode-one-women-lockerbie